THEATER. - Macbeth was put upon the stage last night most admirably, and with the wouderful ability of Mr. and Mrs. Wallack, was performed in a style which we have never seen equalled at the Louisville Theater. Mr. Wallack has proved himself, in the few nights which he has appeared, an actor of rare and versatile talcut. His Werner, in Byron's tragedy of that name, was an effort which but few men in the profession are capable of making. lu tact, as a scholastic and artistic embodiment f the character, it might be said that he has made peculiarly his own. His Macbeth of last night was both striking and novel. The dagger scene was startling, full of deep and powerful emotion. In this part of the play, he fully illustrated the axiom that " au actor s truly great when he entirely forgets himself in he character which he assumes." It was not Wallack, but Macbeth, in every look-in every novement. Mrs. Wallack is beyond all question the best Lady Macbeth now upon the stage. We will not even except the great American tragedienne, Charotte Cushman. She looks the character, and with ner deep, tragic voice, and magnificent presence, produces au effect upon the andience, that is tesified by the deepest silence when she is upon the stage, relieved by the heartiest applause as she sweeps from it at the conclusion of the scene, with the majesty and anguity of the queen of the drama. Too much credit cannot be awarded to Mr. Lorou, the stage manager, for the careful manner in which the play was got up. The choruses were exceedingly effective, and the whole of the beauiful music of Locke was given with great ellect. To-night we have Shakespear's play of the Winter's Tale .- Mr. Wallack as Leontes, and Mrs. Wallack as Hermionc-an exceedingly attractive bill, which caunot fail to draw an immense

ELECTION OF PASTOR OF THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH .- The Rev. W. L. Breckinridge regued the charge of the First Presbyteriau Church of this city some months ago, and since that time the church has been without a pastor .-A call was made upon the Rev. Mr. Brauk, of exington, Ky., but he declined to accept. It was then leudered the Rev. Dr. Kirkputrick, of Charleston, S. C., whom it was thought, from be correspondence, would assume the duties of pastor, but from some cause this was not carried

It being understood that Mr. Brank had reconidered the matter, and would not refuse a call if endered, a session was held last night in the church to make the election. I'rior to the vote the Rev. W. W. Hill directed attention to the rule that none could vote but those in full contmunten and pew helders. The election was then had by ballot with this result: In favor of Mr. Brank 119, and against him 34; Rev. Mr. Henry 1 lev. Dr. Moore 1: Rev. Dr. Kirkpatrick 1. Subequently all but 22 signified their approbation in ne election of the reverend gentleman as pastor. he salary was fixed at $2,500 per auum.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS .- Mr. Gillis, in the Comnon Council, presented a decree of the Chancery 'out1 at Memphis, obtained by J. J. T. Murray on as attachment against certain property owned n Memphis by W. E. Culver; also, a resolution dire ting the Mayor to suspend further legal proecedings against said Murray and his sureties, provided the sureties confess judgment. This was adopted, and subsequently the Board of Aldermen concurred in the same. A resolution was nassed by both boars ng the Mayor to place an engine at the alors onse for the protection of said property. A resolution presented by Mr. Cillis to sell the nder the provisions of an ordinance approved May 17, 1555, passed the Common Council. The erms are one-third cash, balance in 6, 12, and 19

THE LOUISVILLE MEDICAL GAZETTE.-The second umber of this paper has been placed upon our table. We give the following table of contents, to show our medical readers the enterprise which characterizes this periodical:

ORIGINAL COMMUNICATIONS .- Progressive Mas ular Atrophy: Table of Poisons, Antidotes, and neorapatibilities. Selected Articles. - Opthalmology; Pustulou Keralitis; Rigidity of the Os Uleri.

Editouist. - Croup; Original Papers; To our The "Table of Poisous, Antidotes, and Incom patibilities," by Charles W. Wright, M. D., is in our estimation worth, of itself, more than a year's subscription to every medical man.

ACCIDENT TO PARTNERS .- Mr. H. T. Curd. a mer chant of this city, met with a sad accident at his farm, near this city, on Wednesday, while feeding a corn sheller. With one hand he held his watch timing it, and in this way one hand was caught by the machine, and severed between the wrist and lingers. The wounded nand has since been amputated, and Mr. Curd lies in a critical situation.

Mr. Hord, the partner of Mr Curd, was severely burt in his store yesterday, by a pile of cotlee tumbling on bim. It was thought, at first, one of his legs was broken, but happily it was not. He was badly bruised.

KANE'S ARCTIC VOYAGES .- The beautiful illus tration of these voyages, now to be seen at Mozart Hall, are attracting crowds, nightly, and all who attend seem highly pleased with the delighted views there afforded. The sensation this production of art has created is not surprising when we examine it critically as a work of a master, and the subject which created it. Connected with one of the most extraordinary events in history, combining science with wild adventure and romance, linking together a chain of incidents unparalleled in ancient or modern discoveries, it is therefore not surprising that it should attract crowded and fashionable undiences. It will be open to-night

THE EFFECTS OF A BLOW .- The case of McClanaghan vs. W. Gray, adjudicated in the Circuit Court is of some interest. It appeared that Gray had been rolling at a ten-pin alley where the negro of plaintiff set up the pins. At the termination of a game, Gray picked up what is termed a "pony ball, and threw it rather recklessly down the alley, but with no muliclous intent. The ball struck the negro on the head, and the effect of the injury crazed him. The unfortunate affair occurred some years since, and the negro is yet crazy. The pluintiff sued for value of negro, and the jury found verdict in damages of $700 in his favor.

DORA'S FIRST LETTER .- We publish this mornng, in advance of our promise, a charming letter from the gifted pen of our special New York correspondent, "Dora." There are but few who can write so sweetly and so correctly as "Dora," and we know that thousands of the readers of the Courier will rejoice at her becoming a regular contributor to our columns. We commend her letters especially to our lady readers who want to know the thoughts of one of the most gifted and accomplished of their own sex in the great metropolis of the country.

THE DELAY OF THE LAW .- A man was fined $5 esterday in the Police Court, for violation of the law in permitting his vehicle to stand in the street for a great part of the day. The defeudant explained to the Court that he had been in the habit of doing the same thing for three years. As the fine is $5 per day, of course the officers who didn't bring him to justice at the first commission of the offense, ought to pay the balance, which would be $5,470.

DESTRABLE BOARDING SCHOOL FOR BOYS .-- In consequence of recent changes some vacancies have occurred in Rev. B. H. McCown's school for boys, at Forest Home, on the Frankfort Railroad.

twelve miles from the city, which will enable him to take a few more boarding scholars if immediate application is made. Mr. McCowa's is unquestionably one of the very best schools in the

TERRIBLY BURNED .- Billy Reidle, a German boy, was terribly burned in Wright & Bridgford's foundry, yesterday, by tripping and falling with a ladel of molten iron, which splashed over his breast and lower part of the body. The mou ommenced to throw water over him, which the foreman, Mr. Cunningham, checked, and with resence of usud covered him with oil and cotton The injuries were so bad the boy fainted. It is not thought he can recover. ALLEGED PERSION FRAUO. - Saurael M. Burnett of Glynn county, Ga., has been arrested for sending false and counterfeit writings to the Depart-

ient, in support of claims for bounty land in favor of various persons. He was required to ex-pearance at the next District Court, to be held in Savannah on the 2d Tuesday in February next. Mr. C. C. Spencer's sale to-day embraces lot of fine new and desirable furuitare and souse keeping articles, a piano, and splendid colection of rare and beautiful sea shells. The shells are decidedly splendid, and we advise those of our readers who wish to purchase beautiful ornaments, to altend this sale.

THE BANK OF SHAWNKETOWN .- A dispatch at incinnati states that the Chicago bankers are about to throw out the notes of the State Bank of Illinois, at Shawneetown. Its circulation is about $700,000. It is thought there is trouble ahead for the Illinois banks, owing to the inubility of a large number of them to respond to demands made for coin.

GARROTING IN ROCHESTER, N. Y .-- On the Soth dt., about 8 o'clock, l'. M., Mr. Elwin Patten was carroted and robbed of fifty dollars in money and aluable papers, in the heart of the city of Rochster, in the light of gas lamps and in presence of nectators. THE "OLD FOLKS."-This is the last night of

He maintained a coical indifference during a long and queer adlress by the Judge preceding the scattence, and a his way back to jail met one of the jarors who ried him, when the following scene cusaed:

As soon as he (Crop) saw him, he requested he officers to "hold up," and using his own language,: "let me kill the perjured — af a — t is your fault that I have been convicted. Of it is your fault that have been contribed. Of Sherill, led me get hold of that d-d scoundrel—all I ask is to let me take my satisfaction out of nim, and then (pointing to a tree at the Codd Spring Hotel) you may hang me to that tree."—Addressing the juror again he said: "O you—of a ——, I can't settle with you now, but you will not be a first property of the contribution of the contri pay for it-never mind, d-n you; I have friends who will mark you."

Since his sentence, Crop has presisted in delating to his jailers that he did not are the pisol-shot, but admits that he was one of the party who committed the murder. He says there were six of them together in the party, and that all escaped without being seen but him and Corrie. LOUISVILLE: .. FEBRUARY 4, 1859 FRIDAY, sar A-a trug Matter on every page. The City Election.

For several years past Louisville has been sadly misgoverned city, and the people, groaning under the weight of the taxes imposed upon the to ramper a corrupt crew of office-holders, and disgusted at the wretkless, wasteful and extrava gant manner in which the affairs of the city hav been managed, on v wanted the opportunity t drive those in | wer from the position they have be a found so naw orthy to fell. In the absence of an independent movement of the good men of all parties-and par y politics should never be allowed to tyranize over enrioration affairs-the Demo crats should have taken advantage of the feeling a prevalent, and by securing the control of muni ipal affairs have inaugurated a new era alik beneficial to the party and to the city. We fear, however, that is the nomination of the ticket a announced in the Conner yesterday, they hav thrown the golden opportunity away. Generally speaking, the gentlem n on the ticket are, person ally, clever and respectable; but that they are a he men for the t me or the places, no one, howeve bliaded by party prejudices or passion, will be so toolish as to assert. The right hind of a ticket composed of the Tight kind of men, could, beyond all question, have been elected. Even as it is a present constituted, it may generally succoed if the Know Nothings follow their usual course, and nominale bitter pur tisans and unreliable men, in whom the tax payers have no contidence. But, if they should sappen to nominate good, well-known busines men, who are eastvalve in their views and feelings, it is folis to attempt to disguise the facthat Louisvill will be partially, if not entirely under Know Nothing rule for another year.

The Hon. Jere. Clemens, Editor.

The editor of the demphis Eagle and Enquire cannot und retard the recountry since of by the Democratic Convention of Kentucky on the 8th of January 1 st. He devotes just a column of bivaluable space to the resolutions, and his comtences of his comments, which go to show: 1st that the editor of the Eagle has a classical educa tion, and .d. that the Labit of becoming puzzled dates back to the school-boy days of the Hon Jere, Clemens, Editor:

In our school boy days, we have puzzled over many a problem in Enolid, and many a hard pan-sage in Sallast or Thurvelides. O'ten we have been tempted to give up in despair, but then we remembered that the problem could be solved, and the passage could be trueslated; and the knowle edge encouraged us to renewed exertion. by an assurance that a solution is possible

The result of his mental labors over the resolu tions is summed up as follows: We doubt not that all this is perfectly clear to our Democratic friends, but we have worked and ciphered, puzzled and pondered over it in vain, and are rejuctantly compelled to admit that we lack the mental capacity necessary for its sold

Now, we have no doubt that the editor of the Eagle, etc., considers that his solemn declaration of his inability to understand the resolutions will be taken as proof positive of the utter nothing ness of the Democratic platform of the State of Kentacky. While we mourn this solemn dispensa tion, we are somewhat comforted by the reflection that time has proved that the success of the Demceratic party does not depend entirely upon its bringing its resolutions and platforms down to the appreciation and understanding of the Hon. Jere. Clemens, editor of the Memphis Eagle and Enquirer. And, morcover, we are morally certain that, could the editorial Jupiter Tonaus under consideration fully understand the policy of the Democracy of Kentucky, he would be far from pleased therewith. One of the great misfortunes which our party has had to struggle with, and which now besets it, is the weighty displeasure and entire disappoval of the editor of the Eagle and En-

When the Hon. Jere. Clemens was promoted from Congressman to editor, we had no expectations of being able as a party to meet his approbation. The elevation seemed in no wise to soften his temper, but he climbed upon the tripod with a lowering frown, which boded no good to the "Sham Democracy." He took his seat and surveyed the field of political strife with a caluness as beantiful as it was terrible. At the "Sham Democracy" he darted an angry glance, and gnashed his teeth, which terrible actions said nuch plainer than words, "Aha! my fine fellows, I will tend to your case directly!" Upon "the elements opposed to the Democracy" he bestowed a petronizing smile, which said, "I am the red avenger, the great Jibbernainosay. I will speedily avenge the wrongs of Sam, and appears the ghosts of his slaughtered apostles. I am Jere. Clemens. late Congressman, but now editor. Lay your burdens upon my shoulders, and pin your faith to my coat sleeves." Great was the joy of Know Nothingdom, and loud and long the puffs of Free-Nigger editors .-They watched with impatience for solemn givings forth of the great Memphis editor, and the first words that fell from his oracular lips were seized with cagerness, and passed around like ginger cakes at a hoosier wedding.

In short, he has been fulminating his anathamas at the Democratic party most industriously since his promotion, and the Democratic party still lives. If the Democratic party will take our advice, it will continue the even tenor of its way, mangre the displeasure of the editor of the Eagle and Enquirer. We do hope that our party in Kentucky will not abandon the canvass and relapse into despair because the Hon. Jere. Clemens, Editor, is puzzled over our platform. There is a ray of Democratic light peering through the thick darkness of his Know Nothing incomprehensibility, and that ray of light is pleasing to

The Hon. James Guthrie for the Presidency in 1860. The Frankfort Yeoman, the central organ of the Kentucky Democracy, and one of the strongest and best papers in the country, speaks in the following terms of the movements now being made by the press in behalf of our distinguished fellow citizen, the Hon. James Guthrie, for the Presidency in 1860. What the Yeoman says of the strength of Mr. G. in this State, is rather under the mark than over it, for one great, and long, and loud, and glorious shout, will ring from one end of the State to the other if he is nom-

nated by the Charleston Covenntion: This distinguished gortleman's claims for the nomination for the Presidency by the Charleston Convention, are just now being urged strongly by his friends in various portions of this State.—
We see that the Standard, a Democratic paper published at Bowling Green, has boisted his name to the head of its columns by the Presidency in 1850. the head of its columns for the Presidency in 156 and has a very strong article presenting hi ctaims for the nomination. Mr. Guthrie is just regarded, not only in Kentucky, but throughout the United States, as one of our ablest and safest statesmen, and his nomination by the National Democratic Convention would be responded to by the people of his native State in a would at least reach 25,000 for the ticket on which has the following:

AN ABSCONDING TREASURER IN CANADA.-The Toronto, C. W., correspondent of the N. Y. Times has the following:

If you ever knew, you may have forgotten it; if you never did know, it will be news to tell you that Mr. Breslin, formarly Treasurer of the Sinte of Ohio, who, it is said, ran away with I forget how many hundred thousand dollars, has, since that elopement, been living quietly in the neighboring city of Hamilton. He boards, I bet eve, at the Anglo-American Hotel. He is very retiring, and never chirules hi uself upon the attention of visitors. His hair is getting gray. I saw him the other day, and not if a great change. The general impression is, that a man who lives so quietly and of that it only—nay, even closely—ns he, cannot have much much by running away.—And as people don't cited abscond, unless they And as people don't citen abscord, unless they can make a "pile" by doing so, it is thought likely that the defalcations will, ere long, be traced to somebody other than the Ex-Tressurer. Of course, we Canalians have no means of knowing, we can only conjecture.

From that spicy little sheet, the Keckuk Daily l'est, we clip the following compliment, with thanks:

The Louisville Daily Courier is an able representative of Kentucky interests. In its columnes will daily be found the letest news, and commercial matters, literature and a fuil local department. Those who wish a good paper from Kentucky had better send for it.

Abolitlonists Overhauled-Underground Railroad Stopped. An extra from the Weston Platte Argus, of the After the from the wester Flatte Argas, of the 20th, informs us of the recovery of thirteen slaves in Kansas, at the time in charge of conductors appointed by the Abolitionists. According to this account, which is verified by a letter from one of the most respectable gentlemen in Platte county, several velocities slaves use appel from Platte county after does not seen to the conductor of the co ty a few days previous. They were pursued, and this party found that they had crossed the Missent river into Kansas, in charge of three white on luck is. The party followed them to have rence, expecting that the slaves would attempt to escape through Nebraska into lows. During the hight it was ascert ined that leading. Aboltion sis had determined to collect the slaves together, and start them, twelve or thirteen in number, in wo or three wagons i'r lioitan, thence on the ackerents to lewa. The party in pursuit being advised f this, got ahead of the runaways, and ay in went for them. This justy numbered eleven, and were well arened. When the negroes and near rescally conductors reached the spot where ney were, instant and une additional surrender was demanded. As they were completely taken by surprise, this was done, and the course of the acgress was immediately changed to Weston. by made the Rielto Linding before the new tabroad, and all the slaves were safely lodged jail. Great excitement followed, but fortunate no vicience. Dr. Doye and his son Charles, if a man named Chough, were the conductors in is railroad undertaking. They were taken being Jastices Coleman and Heriot, and, in default had in the sum of $1.000. buil in the sum of $5,000, were committed to i. Many persons were 1 r hanging them a cc, but wiser counsels prevailed, and they were sent to jul. Dr. Dove conducted his own canad said that he and his son were only hired conduct the slaves to Holton, and that they had seen told that the negroes were free. The negroes, after their capture, were to be taken to latte City, it not previously rescaed by the Abo gross on the underground rudroad is not, after so nice a bertli.

The negroes are owned by persons residing in Jackson, Clay, and Platie countles.—St. L. Reg., Feb. 2d.

Street Walkers. The New York car officials are warring again on the "Street Walkers." 25 of the poor unfortnwates were seize? on Broadway on Thursday night and carried to the "fombs." Next day the whole party were brought up, when their cases attracted and more than made to the control of the cases attracted. ed more than usual attention. The front room was crowded with bafers, there's and Tombs lawyers, the litter declaring the arrest in abominable outrage. The massirate heard the evidence of the offers, and oring fully satisfied of the character of the accused, sentenced them to imprisonment in the Pentantiary for terms varying forms for the six possible. imprisonment in the Pentantiary for terms varying from four to six manths. Some of the girls gave way to a copious flow of tears, and declared that their were respectable, and were only taking a finde walk, while others laughed, and said they didn't care a d—n. Two or three measured the officers, and asked them to "wait till they got out and flory would give them lits." A few entreated the magnishrate to let them off, promising to behave letter and keep out of the streets, but their protestations availed them nothing, the magistrate teliting them that he should make an example. traic telling them that he should make an example of them. A GREAT MEDICINE FOR FFWALIS .- Hundreds of stim niants have been invented and sold, purporting to be specific in the various diseases and derangements to which the delicate form of woman render her subject Theresult of a'l these stimulants has been to impart momentary activity to the nervous system, and fulse vigor to the muscles; but this relief has been succeeded by a derression and prostration greater than before; and the repeated attempts of invailed to build themselves up by these fulse remedies, have finally ended in destroying what little vital organization was left. But h asing "EERHAVE'S HOLLAND BITTERS" you will and no such disastrous results. It is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, af the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor Berhave. Under its influence every nerve and muscle receives new strength and vigor, appetite and sleep return, and, finally, perfect health. See advertisement in another column.

XXXVth CONGRESS-SECOND SESSION.

Thursday's Proceedings Continued. WASHINGTON, D. C., February 3d.—Senate.— Mr. Houston, of Texas, introduced a bill to unite the two Judicial Districts of Texas, the object of the bill being to remove Judge Watrous. In presenting the bill, Mr. Houston took occasion to reply to those members of the House of Representatives who had accused the people of Texas of an unusul clamor against Judge Watrons. He proceeded to reveal an alleged case of conspiracy of which Wutrous was an actual member of which Yutrons was an actual member. The object of said conspiracy, in which New Yorkers were chelly implicated, was to obtain large portions of the public domain of the Republic of Texas. The speech was an elaborate oue, and occupied the attention of the Senate for au hour and a half.

Mr. Collamer, of Vt., presented a minority report from the Judiciary Committee in reference to the contested scats of the Indiana Senators.

Mr. Wilson, of Muss., introduced a bill to anthorize the Attorney General to represent the United States in the proceedings of Equity, now pending in the Supreme Court, between Mussachusetts and Rhode Island. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. Gwyun, of Cal., moved to reconsider the vote whereby the Agriculturul Bill was vesterday recommitted, which was carried. Yeas 27; nays 21. The bill was therefore taken up, re-discussed. ided, and its further consideration then post poned till Monday, in order that Mr. Clay, of Ala may speak thereon; he, Mr. Clay, considering it a monstrous, dangerous, iniquitous measure.
The Indiau Appropriation Bill was theu taken up, de bated and jussed.
The Senate then went into Executive Sessiou

The Senate then went into Executive Session and subsequently adjourned.

House.—Mr. Faulkner of Va., reported a resolution instructing the Committee on Printing to inquire into the expediency of devising some plan by which the President's message and the accompanying documents can be earlier printed. He said that although Congress has been in session for two months, such documents as are essential to the business of the Committee on Military affairs have not yet been printed.

Mr. Letcher of Va., offered an amendment which was agreed to, that further inquiry be made as to whet er the pay for deable type set-ting in y not be avoided where the work is exe-cuted by the same person for both Houses of Congress. Congress.

Mr. Houston of Ala, remarked that the President's message and the accompanying will make four volumes, when three-fourths of the whole matter fs worthless to the United States.

The resolution was then adopted.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union, on the Execu-tive, Legislative and Jadicial appropriation bill. An carnest debate ensued on the reduction of the item of appropriation for boxes supplied to numbers of Congress—the question of economy eing iuvolved
Mr. John Cochrane of N. Y, said the time thus consumed was worth very much more than these poxes. Gentlemen ought to confine themselves o weightier matters for retreuchment. Mr. Staunton, of Ohio, replied that he would trike down the army to the peace establishment f 1820; strike down the navy, and curtail the postoffice expenditures, etc.

Mr. Cochrane responded that such a action would deform and and not reform the public ser rice.

Mr. Crawford, of Georgia, said that two boxes were for each member, in which to send home

Mr. Trippe, of Georgia, remarked that he hal received only two boxes when he was entitled to eight. He would make a present of the other six eight. He would make a present of the other six to the government. Laughter |
Five thousand dollars for the boxes was then voted to he stricken ont. Other small items of the contingent expenses of the house, viz: saddle horses, wagons, etc., were discussed.

Mr. Willson of Va., reminded the gentlemen that, at the rate at which the House had been proceeding, it would require 11 days to dispose of this hill. Let them trust the Committee of Ways and Means for the details and devote them Vavs and Means for the details and devote them ems were small, it was no reason why retrenchout should not be made.

Mr. Washburn of Me, spoke of the useless con Mr. Washburn of Me, spoke of the useless consumption of time and suggested the consideration of more important reforms.

Mr. Haskin of N. Y., said he would vote for an additional number of newspapers for distribution among members, for he was certain that more intelligence was required than had been shown to-day. For the whole time had been shown to-day. For the whole time had been expended in Buncombe speeches. Laughter, If he could have his way, he would incorporate an amendment to prevent lawyers from speaking ou such a bill as this.

Secretary Cobb's Report on the Public Revenue Washington, Feb. 3 .- The Secretary of the Freuenry sent to the House to day a reply to the esolution passed by that body, calling for the ac-ual and prohable receipts—from customs, public ands, and other sources, for this and the next fisal year, and for his opinion whether said receipt he present liseal year ending Soptember las were nearly $25,220,000, as stated in his annu-report. The receipts for the remaining thre quarters were estimated at $35,50,000, of wind om $57,000,000 were estimated to be derive om the customs. It was believed that the quar-er ending December last would yield $10,000. od, and the quarter ending the 31st of Murch 15,000,000, and the next quarter, ending the 3 at June, $12,000,000.

In reference, not only to customs, but to the pub ment since his annual report, confirms the cor-rectness of the estimates of probable receipts for the present and the next fiscal year. He is therefore, of the opinion that the result will show that the actual receipts for the remaining quar-ters of the present, and for the next fiscal year. ters of the present, and for the next liseal year, will uotvary materially from the estimates already submitted to Congress. In support of this opinion, he submits a comparison of receipts for the same quarters of the two preceding years.—During the fiscal year ending on the 26th of June, 1857, the importations were very heavy, amounting in dutiable goods, exclusive of those exported, to over $294,000,000, and the receipts from customs for that year were $60,315,000. In the fiscal year ending June, 1858, the importations were much reduced, amounting, in duttable goods, exclusive of those exported, to $205,000,000, and the receipts from customs for that year were $42,046,000. To realize his estimates, the importation 046,000. To realize his estimates, the importation of dutiable goods for the present fiscal year must each $250,000,000, besides those exported and for reach $250,000,000, besides those exported and for the next fiscal year, the sum of $250,000,000. Comparing the foregoing statements of receipts and looking to a favorable and healthy reaction in business, he should regard it us unsafe and unwise to culculate upon a larger importation than the present estimates contemplate; and, entertaining these opinions, he is compelled to say that the receipts will not be adequate to the necessity of the public exigencies, unless the expenditures should be reduced below the amount estimated, for he has no indication that would induce the opinion that such a result can be reasonably auticipated. On the contrary, of bills which have been passed by either one or the other branches of Congress be finally passed by both and become laws, the expenditures would be very largely and permanently in-res would be very largely and permanently in It is estimated that the Pension bill alone, which It is estimated that the Pension bill alone, which has passed the House, would add several millions to the annual expenses of the Government, and even a larger amount for the next fiscal year.—

Other bills which have passed either the Senate or House, in a large measure, swell the amount of expenditure. There are contingencies towards which the attention of Congress should be directed. In considering the probable receipts and oxpenditures of Government, either the expenditures must be reduced to the estimated receipts, or some other means of revenue be provided. If the nust be reduced to the estimated receipts, or some other means of revenue be provided. If the first remedy cau be effected, it is certainly the most desirable. He has already submitted to Cougress plans for codifying the revenue laws, and for the re-organization of the collection districts, which, if sanctioned and passed into laws, would greatly facilitate the operations of the Treasury Department, and reduce largely the expenses for the collection of the revenue. There stand upon the statute books laws requiring the building of custom houses, postofices, and court houses.

for the collection of the revenue. There stand upon the statute books laws requiring the building of custom houses, postofices, and court houses at places where the public service does not require them at this time. A repeal of these laws or a postponement of the erection of these buildings to a period of greater prosperity and less embarrassment, would relieve the Treasury of that amount of expenditure.

The recommendation to abolish the franking privilege, and of raising the letter postage to 5 cents, with the view of bringing the Postofice Department as near as possible to its former self-sustaining position, will, if carried out, greatly relieve the treasury. In the other departments, reductions might also, in all probability be made. He only speaks of those which have been brought to the attention of Congress, and commends them to their favorable consideration. If, however, the appropriations made at the present session shall reach the amount estimated for in the Secretary'a report, a deficiency will exist which must be provided for by additional legislation, and to the extent that the appropriations shall exceed the estimates will that deficiency be necessarily increased. He has already expressed the opinion that the public debt ought not to be increased by an additional loan. That opinion remains unchanged.

THE SIGNAL TR.

On the strained of the spires to the relaxation, spermatorises, the spire of Grean Likes, with the spires of the Treasury notes, can always be redeemed without endan ering the successful operations of the De-partment. Whenever there shall be an excess of the revenue over the expenditures, it can be safely placed to the redemption of Treasury notes, the power of re-issuing them, existing. Should the future receipts, from any cause, fall below the estimates of the Department, an additional reasou, viz: The notes can be redeemed without payment of any promium which will hardly be the case. of any premium, which will hardly be the case with the United States stock. Contemplating the gradual redemption of these notes, and being opposed to the policy of adding the sum of $20,000,000 to the permanent deht, he repeats his former recommendation for extending the eperation of the Treasury note act for one or two years more. Should Congress adjourn without legislating on he subject, it would be almost impossible, under he most favorable receipts from the ordinary the most favorable receipts from the ordinary sources, for the Department to meet the public fiabilities until another Congress should be convened. He had already recommended that this immediate demand should be provided for hy authorizing the re-issue of these treasury notes for one or two years. This can easily he effected by extending the provisions of the act of December, 1557, anthorizing the issue of Treasury notes.—The proposition to convert these notes into a permanent fund ought not to receive the favorable manent fund ought not to receive the favorable consideration of Congress, and it would be virtually to postpone their ultimate payment to a distant day, when the policy of the Government should be to redeem them from year to year, as the neans of the Treasury will justily. Later from California — Arrival of the Gverland Mail.

Tombs' Bankrupt Bill, etc.

Washington, Feb. 3.
Senator Tombs intends early next week to bring forward a bankrupt bill and sustain thy aspecch. It is similar in its details to the one mentioned by the Committee ou the Judiciary last session. Although there is a presure of the public business senare proprings of friends of of the public business, some prominent friends of the measure in both llouses, if it is presented, think the bill can be passed, provided its advo-cates act with zeal. It is claimed that the Sen are being opposed to interfering with the tariff, gives the bill additional strength.
